

November 26, 2025: On Death Threats to Me Inside of my Home

I am writing this note to publicly record that I just received another death threat from Donald Trump's team of criminals spies and traitors to America.

One common use of his technological placement within the leadership of the American National Security state is his driving vehicles past my house on a regular basis in order to 'communicate' messages with me based upon my activity.

One activity that is used to send signals is my music. (As well as my typing) But for this example, I am recording that Donald Trump's team drives cars past my house when lyrics state that 'I am lying you down.'

I take these messages to be death threats against me. As I have already shown, his team has also sent a gunman to confront me in my front yard. Donald Trump is the President of the United States and is committing treason by illegal use of the United States military.

I am stating for the record that this appear to me to be an immediate threat, a threat that he is able to carry out, and that could result in my serious bodily injury or death. Donald Trump is actively confirming these messages to me with more and more vehicles driving increasingly fast past my house as I write this message.

I am recording this as yet another example of the real-life treason that Donald is committing against members of the public that he was 'installed' to represent.

I already understand that this method is being used against judges and other politicians as well. My public recordings of his threats to my home only adds to reinforce his threats against others as well.

I am confident that his team is 'requesting' or 'encouraging' me to show this now that I have gone public. Apparently, he is proud to be known as the villain now that his 'hero' cape fell off.

I will wait until the moment is right to file my lawsuit against him. His name will forever be marked into the pages of history as a threatening traitor that did wage war against his own country.

But until that date arrives - if ever (perhaps he follows through and kills me as he threatens on a daily basis) - I am posting publicly that I am enduring a 24/7 campaign of psychological warfare against my life by Donald Trump because I am choosing to not involve myself in his treasonous operation against America.

This old man has gone beyond what anyone ever thought he would try to justify himself.

'Never Surrender' was his mugshot slogan. And let me tell you - IT FITS!

Honestly, I do believe we are watching a war criminal on the run from treason charges.

Donald Trump's campaign is to 'Save America' by selling 'Never Surrender' mugshots while evading charges of threatening and abusing his fellow Americans.

What a fucking loser.
